

Jewli Lichwa

Personal Profile

Passionate educator for over 8 years, who loves working with children and supporting their development. Experienced in working with primary/secondary education.

- Capable of building a rapport with students individually to help accommodate their learning experiences.
- Attentive to physical, emotional, intellectual, and social needs of individual students.

Education

Bachelor of Social Work

2012

Rutgers University, New Brunswick, NJ

Work Experience

The Oxford School of Languages, Modena, MO, IT

September 2021 – Current

English Teacher, Grades 4-12th

Creating and delivering unique curriculums for students, focusing on improving English proficiency through grammar, listening, writing, and speaking skills. Providing support for beginner, intermediate, and advanced level students through classes, tutoring, and extra curricular after school programs.

Northwest Educational Service District 189, Arlington, WA, USA

November 2016 – October 2019

Paraeducator, Grades Kindergarten-12th

Assisting special education students in grades kindergarten through high school and court-involved students in achieving academic and behavioral goals as specified in student Individualized Education Plans (IEP). Providing support in facilitating the overall safety and effectiveness of the school operations through student supervision, instructional support, behavior intervention and management, as well as operational/clerical support.

Farmington Public Schools Extended Care & Learning, Farmington, CT, USA

October 2015 – April 2016

Senior Group Leader, Grades Preschool-4th

Assisting with managing early childhood education programs operations including supervising staff, communicating with parents/guardians, managing field trips, coaching enrichment programs, tutoring, and providing continuous supervision to children during indoor and outdoor activities to establish safe and positive social environments.

Additional Skills

Child Development

English (Native)

Patience

Time Management

Teaching Strategies

Data Management